

Dear Lillian,

Are you excited about Christmas this year? I know I am!

Rudolph can't wait to pull my sleigh to your house on December 25th. His nose is glowing just thinking about it!

The North Pole is so busy this time of year. Mrs Claus and I are sitting in front of the fire relaxing for a few minutes - before I head over to the workshop to check on the elves.

The elves are busy in the workshop getting all the toys ready for the big day. I hope I can fit them all in my sack!

It is a good thing Rudolph and the other reindeer have been doing lots of exercises because this year will be a workout.

I know you have been good this year. I am so proud!

I'm sure you have heard of my list of children who are naughty and nice. Well, like every year, your name shows up on the 'nice' list.

Even if you're super excited, please be sure to get into bed early on Christmas Eve. I can't stop at houses where boys and girls are wide awake! Then, in the morning, you'll see all your presents under the Christmas tree.

That reminds me... Don't forget to hang up your stocking!

I'll see you on Christmas Eve. But hopefully, you'll be fast asleep.

Have a very Merry Christmas,

Santa
