

Dear

Congratulations on losing your very first tooth! I am your Tooth Fairy, Shimmer Featherwing, and I am so happy to finally meet you.

Losing your first tooth is very exciting, but I know it can feel a little scary too. So last night, I sprinkled my 'Starlight Bravery' spell on your pillow when you were sleeping.

Starlight Bravery is a very special spell that helps you to remember that you are braver than you think you are, and that we all feel this a bit scared sometimes. So whether you've lost your first tooth, you're starting a new school or anything else that seems a little scary at first, you can always be brave!
