

OFFICIAL SANTA LETTER

Dear

Greetings from the North Pole! Brrrrr, it's extra-cold here today, but it's the perfect time to settle down in front of the fire with some hot cocoa, and catch up on my letters.

Now, I have something very important to discuss. Christmas is nearly here, and I know that you've been trying your very best this year. This is why I wanted to write to you myself. My elves and I have been watching, and we want you to know that we are very proud of you.

Did you know that when you treat others with kindness and love, you're giving them a gift? And it's the best gift you can possibly give, because it's from the heart, and it always brings happiness. This is why, on Christmas Eve, I bring presents to children like you. Even if you haven't realized it, you've been giving little gifts to others for the whole year already!

Keep up the good work, my little helper, and I have a feeling you'll wake up to a lovely gift of your own on Christmas morning. Ho ho ho!

With love, Santa
